The European Federation of Chemical Engineering (EFCE) is pleased to announce the EFCE Student Mobility Award 2007. The objective of the award is to promote mobility among European chemical engineering students. The award is presented every two years to the best European students of chemical engineering who have spent one or more semesters studying abroad.

The EFCE Student Mobility Award 2007 will consist of three prizes: 1st Prize: € 2,000; 2nd Prize: € 1,500; 3rd Prize: € 1,000.

The prizes will be awarded during the 6th European Congress of Chemical Engineering which will be held in Copenhagen, Denmark, from 16 to 21 September 2007. The prize-winners will be invited to attend the congress free of charge. Travel and accommodation expenses will be borne by EFCE after consultation and approval of the Frankfurt office of the EFCE General Secretariat.

All students who are citizens of a European country in which EFCE is represented can apply for the EFCE Student Mobility Award if they have successfully studied for at least one semester (≥ 30 ECTU) in first or second cycle study programmes in chemical engineering in each of two or more different countries.

Applications should include the application form, which can be downloaded from the EFCE website (www.efce.info), and the following attachments: curriculum vitae, transcript of records or similar documents of all places of study, other proof of academic performance (letter of support by academic supervisor, etc.), and a one-page essay about the experience of studying in different countries.

All documents should be submitted in English no later than 2 years after graduation.

Applications should be submitted by 28 February 2007 by mail to the Frankfurt office of the EFCE General Secretariat at the following address:

EFCE, c/o DECHEMA e.V., Theodor-Heuss-Allee 25, 60486 Frankfurt am Main, Germany
